The world's most exciting city is the backdrop for a series of killings – all investigated by an elite murder squad. This specialist group is headed by hugely experienced Detective Inspector David Bradford, who has just returned from compassionate leave, following the disappearance of his wife three months ago.

David's team comprises of ambitious Detective Sergeant Vivienne Cole who plays by her own rules, seasoned crime-solver Detective Constable Rob Brady and inexperienced Trainee Detective Constable Billie Fitzgerald.

As the detectives solve each murder case – the staged suicide of an MP's son, the mysterious death of a man on his stag night, a killing on a house-boat, a woman's body washed up by the Thames, and the stabbing of one of the detectives – the one case David can't crack is the one most personal to him; what has happened to his wife?
