Tobie Lolness

Tobie’s world is a Great Oak Tree in which people are only two millimetres tall and live in a sedentary, pre-industrial society. Engines have not yet been invented; this is a world of domesticated insects, windmills and muscle power.

For the Tree People, it takes about seven days to travel up from the Low Branches to the Treetop, and only a little less to travel down.

When Tobie’s father makes a ground-breaking discovery, tapping into the very heart of the Tree’s energy, he also realizes that exploiting it could permanently damage their world. Refusing to reveal the secret of his invention to an enraged community, the family is exiled and Tobie’s parents have been imprisoned. Only Tobie has managed to escape and is now the most wanted person in his world as one man is determined to get hold of the forbidden knowledge... and his plan is to destroy the Tree.

The story of Tobie Lolness unfolds over three years.

Since its release in 2006, the novel by Timothée de Fombelle has sold over 1,000,000 copies and was published in 30 countries. The book has received numerous awards and has become a classic of children’s literature in less than ten years. A coming-of-age story of adventure, heroism, friendship and survival, with a powerful environmental message, set in a miniature world.

Sam & Julia

Coming from a distant island, Julia, a cute and speedy little she-mouse, has moved into a residential building (a.k.a. “The Mouse Mansion”) where she feels a bit like a stranger. She gets to meet Sam who also lives there and is a welcoming and crafty little he-mouse. Julia has only her mum for family. Sam on the other hand has a large family with mum, dad and a sibling group of six. Despite their different characters, they soon get to very much like each other. Sam helps his new little neighbour friend to get used to her new life. The funny entertaining adventures they experience in and around The Mouse Mansion allow Julia to become ever more integrated into this new, different environment. Even though she sometimes feels nostalgic about the beautiful and warm island where she was born and misses, she feels more at home day after day, surrounded by her new neighbours and friends.

Sam & Julia is a real-time animated 3D series, in the stop motion style, to match the very unique, real-doll atmosphere of the best-selling book series Sam & Julia by Karina Schaapman that the series is based on.

Grisù

Meet Grisù, the first fire-fighting dragon. He is always ready for his missions around the world!

Grisù is a little dragon who dreams of becoming a firefighter. Even if there's no job available at the fire station, he is always ready to help! He travels the world to accomplish his missions because, as he always says, "Firefighters never give up!" His father Fumé doesn't understand his son's vocation. Dragons breathe fire! So why can't Grisù just give up this crazy idea?

But every day, Grisù goes to see the fire chief David, his best friend Stella's father, to check if there is a job for him at the fire station. Unfortunately, all positions are filled, but David finds him another role. And the small dragon puffs out his chest – "I'm always ready!" – and helps out as a shepherd, cook, florist, archaeologist, pilot or even a sailor!

Grisù puts more into the job than anyone else by using his energy and his 'touch', which always brings an unexpected twist. When the situation gets complicated, Grisù's emotions overwhelm him and he can't help releasing a little spark which makes things worse... In these moments of doubt, Grisù knows how to draw on his heroic spirit – "Firefighters never give up!". At the end, one thing is sure: Grisù is going to be a firefighter!

Henrietta

Henrietta lives on a little farm together with the farmer and lots of other animals. Her favourite activity is to help the local postman deliver the mail. She has big and little adventures, sometimes causes chaos, goes on journeys or throws a party. With Henrietta, there's always something going on – turbulent stories with plenty of surprises, crazy chickens and happy, surprising endings!

The series brings great fun to the viewers in seeing how the animals solve their bizarre problems with creativity and always manage to enjoy a real happy ending.

The cow that constantly underestimates her own physique and tries to fulfill her needs in a naïve and funny way creates a unique humour. Every episode contains a twist, a humorous change. Often the result at the end contradicts the expectations at the beginning of an episode.

Pettson and Findus

Pettson and Findus tells captivating stories of the old, inventive farmer Pettson and his loyal but impudent cat Findus.

Pettson is an old man who lives on a farm way up north and cares for his lively and imaginative cat Findus. Findus constantly wants to discover and experience new and exciting things, e.g. fishing, outdoor camping or treasure hunting. Since Findus has never done these things before, Pettson is always by his side and takes good care of him. He also uses these adventures to test some of his newest inventions... Unfortunately, these inventions do not always work the way they should and things end up in a mess. Sometimes the cocky feline – who is like a son to him – really gets on Pettson's nerves, but in the end they're always of one heart and one mind. For they both know that one without the other is unthinkable – and only half the fun!

INUI

INUI is a series about playing and having fun adventures in the Arctic. Inui, a little Inuit girl, loves the snow, grew up in the Arctic Circle and knows how to keep warm and have fun in the coldest temperatures. Her friends Crackpot the Caribou, Grouchy the Polar Bear and Lady Penguin are as at home as she is in the snowy wastes of the far north. Lady Penguin, of course, is not a native but has travelled from the other side of the globe. They set out every day to play the sort of games you could only play in the snow and ice.

This is a series about a child's imagination of the polar region and the sort of fun you might have there. This is not a world of permanent darkness and frostbite but rather a place where you can slide, throw snowballs, build snowmen and gaze in awe at the Northern Lights.

Tilda Appleseed

Tilda is a clever, very cultivated church mouse, who lives in a tiny house at the foot of the church wall.

Tilda lives there with her pet Snaily and close to her best friends, the grey mouse Molly, the grumpy but kind-hearted hedgehog Rupert, the high-spirited squirrel twins Billy and Benny, Edna the squirrel mum and the vain but lovable Robin. Tilda loves exciting stories just as much as she likes delicious food, so it's no surprise that there's always plenty of both in her tiny house. She deals humorously with the matters at hand and in her very own original way, therefore small things can turn into big stories ... And the solutions Tilda comes up with are refreshingly unique and childlike in their directness.

Tilda Appleseed and her friends are a wonderful ensemble that will immediately find a place in the hearts of all viewers.

Ludovic

Based on an idea by Academy Award-winning animation filmmaker Co Hoedeman, this light-hearted animation series for toddlers emphasises the power of the imagination, friendship, and a loving family...

What child has never dreamed of bringing toys and everyday objects to life! Of making a doll dance, a cookie talk or an umbrella fly! This is Ludovic's special gift, which he's sharing with toddlers all over the world in this enchanting stop-motion animated series.

Ludovic is a little teddy bear who lives with his parents in the suburbs. When the four-year-old plays with his faithful companion Walla, a duck, and his little bear friends Violet and George, he can transform inanimate objects into very animated – and often quite unruly! – ones. But watch out: if an adult shows up, the objects return to their unanimated status!

Dragon

Dragon is a tubby little blue dragon from whose mouth comes a constant flow of friendly words and a truly disarming dragon laugh. His trademarks are a lack of prejudice, curiosity and the fact that he always has the fitting headgear for every occasion. He tends to see things from a different perspective than most of us and this is when lots of things go wrong.

Dragon's stories are taken from children's everyday lives: he experiences Christmas, he goes shopping and even adopts a big fat cat and takes it home. But whatever experiences he goes through, Dragon and his friends Postmouse, Ostrich, Alligator and Beaver somehow make every day special.

Superhero Academy

Even superheroes have to go to school!

Superhero Academy is an action comedy, written as a traditional sitcom where drama and comedy go hand in hand when the classmates are put to the test. Each standalone episode has two separate storylines that intertwine at the end, making the series rich and fast-paced.

In this scripted series, we follow a group of friends at a unique boarding school for future superheroes. These young students might have impressive superpowers, but are still human beings with challenges and struggles like every other child: Can a hero be afraid of heights or even the dark? What happens when they break the rules? Is it embarrassing to be in love? Do superhero outfits need to be washed?

We meet Blaze, who can manipulate fire, but his impulsiveness and fiery sneezes and farts might set the surroundings on fire. The sly and stubborn Tele uses her telekinetic powers for personal gain – might she even become a villain in the end? Raymond's x-ray vision goes hand in hand with his insecure and neurotic nature, and he is always afraid that something will go wrong. Clever super inventor Alpha is the perfect student, but sometimes too principled and rigid for her own good. And Uno can duplicate himself into Duo, Trio, Quattro and more, but he is short-sighted and thrill-seeking – and the doubles have a double dose of Uno's weaknesses.

The show is unique and innovative with its wacky storylines. Not only does it introduce us to a world of heartwarming friendships, but combines it with the sought-after edge-of-your-seat action.

Marcus Level

“Marcus... He’s on a whole other level!”

Meet Marcus Level, a boy who sets out to play his favorite video game – and becomes a brave hero in a rich yet light-hearted virtual universe when he lands right smack inside the game itself.

When Marcus gets the latest version of his favorite video game, “Gorbar and the Valley of the Seven Light Towers”, he tells himself that while his parents are gone during the weekend, he’ll finally be able to explore all of its worlds.

As soon as he turns on the gaming console and sticks in the game card, a flash of white lightning jumps out of the screen! Marcus suddenly finds himself transported inside the video game in the place of his hero Gorbar the Magnificent! Instead of big muscular arms, Marcus uses his head. But what about Gorbar?

Gorbar travels in the opposite direction and is quite puzzled to find himself in Marcus’ room. The roles might be reversed, but the rules of the game stay the same. Marcus knows that if he wants to go home, he has but one solution: finish the game and free Princess Aria from the clutches of the evil Vipkrad. But before he can do that, he’ll have to face countless challenges. Marcus wanted to play? He’ll get what he wants!

Gobar winds up in Marcus’ room, convinced that he’s still on his mission, looking for the princess. He’s going to have to deal with Seraphine, the baby-sitter, and learn to live the everyday life of a kid. It’s obvious that things aren’t going to be easy neither for Marcus, nor for Gorbar in Marcus’ home!

Every episode of Marcus Level takes us into one of the worlds of the Valley of the Seven Light Towers!

Törtle

It’s summer in Muddlemere, a tranquil little town right on Muddle Lake. Wild animals have made themselves at home here, not in direct contact with humans, but close enough to enjoy the comforts of civilisation. When they are caught seeking food and shelter in rubbish bins, gardens and garages, Wendy the vixen, Grumpf the boar, Kevin the marten and many others regularly come into conflict with the residents of Muddlemere and their pets. And right in the middle of the gang is Törtle, an exotic creature. As a tortoise who grew up in a pet shop, he is neither a pet nor a wild animal. Because he has plenty of time to observe people and animals very closely, he understands their behaviour and finds solutions to their conflicts that you wouldn’t expect from a slow creature like Törtle. In every episode Törtle gets caught up in the culture clash between humans and animals, but always emerges as the unexpected hero.

In a time when the Earth was believed to be flat and after a long journey eastwards, young Marco Polo is finally reunited with his father at the court of Kublai Khan. However, just as they are planning their return home, Marco discovers something that changes all his travel plans: his friend Shi La is not an orphan! Her mother, a famous Chinese singer, is still alive. Knowing how it feels to miss a parent, Marco wants to help Shi La find her long-lost mother, and even Luigi overcomes his travel-weariness to help his friend.

Together the three of them set out on a journey to exciting new places and fascinating cultures that will soon become another great adventure. They meet the brave soldier girl Mulan, help build the Angkor Wat temple, and participate in an elephant party in the middle of the jungle. On the Indian Ocean, they get immersed in a swarm of butterflies and, in Egypt, they encounter hidden tombs and mummies.

The Skinner Boys — Guardians of the Lost Secrets

It's Skinner time!

World explorer Augustus Skinner has died and his four teenage grandkids have inherited the big, old Skinner mansion and its contents. But Grandpa Skinner also left them a big surprise: the Skinners are now Guardians of the Lost Secrets, a collection of artefacts across the world that possess freaky powers, and crazy creatures that nobody ever believed really existed. In the wrong hands, the fabled Stone Maker could turn a whole army to stone or bring a stone army back to life! This is the flipped-out, fun and freakish world of the Skinner family.

Scream Street

Scream Street follows the wonderful, funny and weird world of a community of so-called monsters: home to families of reluctant werewolves, sarcastic vampires, kick-ass mummies and ghouls galore!

This spooky comedy focuses on the core teen friendship group of Luke Watson (reluctant werewolf), Cleo Farr (a teenage mummy) and Resus Negative (a wannabe vampire). Their extended friendship group includes an apprentice witch (Luella), a surfer-dude zombie (Doug) and, latterly, the newest addition, Six, a Frankenstein-esque super-athlete.

Stories are full of heart and warmth with comedy at the core. The ups and downs of teen friendship groups are all part of the action too: the importance of being who you are, inclusion and acceptance are explored – all delivered through slick stop motion and CGI.

Runes

Twelfth century Normandy. After the death of Robert the Magnificent, his son William, who is the contested heir to the throne of Normandy, manages to find refuge in the village of Baligan. In order to escape from the lords seeking to eliminate him and replace him on the throne, William assumes a new identity, that of a simple peasant boy named Hugo.

Taken in by Cecile's family, Hugo must be careful not to attract any attention from Lady Neel, the sovereign leader of Baligan, as she has tasked her head guard with tracking down the boy and preventing him from succeeding to the Norman throne. When Hugo meets the old witch Algythe and discovers her knowledge of Runes, another facet of his destiny is revealed to him. He must renew the spell cast by his ancestor Rollo – a spell that ensures that Loki, the god of chaos, is kept imprisoned in Baligan's cave.

Thanks to the help of his new friends, the teachings of the old witch and especially his own will and courage, Hugo is revealed to be increasingly worthy of his destiny as the Chosen One.

Four and a Half Friends

Charly and his friends love solving mysteries while facing the challenges of growing up. This unlikely group of junior detectives – and their dog – will stop at nothing to find and solve cases they uncover in and around their home town. And between all the excitement, action and laughs, they’ll find out a bit about themselves and each other along the way. They don’t have superpowers, they aren’t geniuses and they don’t even look like TV stars, but these normal, unexceptional kids and their funny-looking dog achieve amazing things when they get together as the Charly & Co. Detective Agency.

One of the unique things about this show is that we experience each adventure through the eyes of one character. This ‘kid’s-eye view’ means viewers will be able to identify with the character’s thoughts and feelings, and enjoy their adventures even more. Join the Charly & Co. Detective Agency in 26 adventure stories for boys and girls aged six to ten!

Lassie

In the new adventures of Lassie, the beloved collie comes to life in an animated TV series that is adventurous, humorous and a whole lot of fun.

Lassie is smart, loyal and ready to cross rivers and fires to come to the rescue of her young owner, 10-year old Zoe. A big task, as Zoe’s hunger for adventure is as large as the Grand Mountain National Park that Zoe and Lassie call home. Zoe is an intelligent, capable and compassionate young girl and as Lassie actually understands human feelings, without having to ask, she is the perfect companion for Zoe.

Together with their animal friends – who are a combination of pets and wild animals – they go on exciting adventures and take the young audience on a dramatic, fun and thoroughly enjoyable ride.

In Season 2 we meet a motley crew of new characters and also find out more about your favorite heroes: Lassie, Zoe, Harvey and their families.

Peter Pan – The New Adventures

Neverland is really threatened. Evil Captain Hook has hatched terrifying plans that our young heroes Peter Pan, Wendy, John, Michael and the Lost Kids need to foil. On the way, they are in for some new, thrilling adventures: Peter Pan takes Wendy off to fantastical places, which often turn out to be far more dangerous than anyone would have ever dreamed. And while Hook's schemes generally tend to turn against him, they can – and do – cause real damage in Neverland.

Our audience will be inspired to dream as they follow our heroes' adventures. They will tremble for and with them, and even though they know deep down that Peter Pan always comes out the winner, the eternal question is of course: how will he manage this time?

Wendy

Nobody knows why, but it's a fact: girls love horses! With Wendy as heroine, children have a teen to look up to. And they'll love the irresistible mix of horse-and-rider adventures, romance and comedy.

15-year-old Wendy lives at the riding school and stud farm owned and operated by her dad. Life around the stables is full of gossip, drama, rivalries and friendships that, like many dreams, can be shattered by important riding competitions. Besides horses, Wendy and her friends explore teen issues with a light touch and a comic flair, and struggle with right and wrong choices as they navigate the stormy waters of the teen years.

The Worst Witch

The Worst Witch follows the exciting adventures of one of the most iconic and best-loved characters in children's literature, Mildred Hubble. It's a fantastic and ambitious reimagining of Jill Murphy's much-loved books. Mildred Hubble is a student at Cackle's Academy for Witches, and is living every child's dream – she's learning how to do real magic! Every day, she gets to fly on a broomstick, mix potions and cast spells. But Mildred's place in this world is always in jeopardy – not only is she the worst witch in school, she's constantly doing battle with formidable Miss Hardbroom, snooty Ethel Hallow, and Miss Cackle's evil twin sister Agatha.

Magical mayhem meets the everyday world of school life in a show that will resonate with every child who's ever dreamed of being able to change the world by magic – and everyone who's ever worried about not being good enough. The Worst Witch is a spellbinding combination of fun, jeopardy, comedy and drama.

Theodosia

It's 1905. Smart, bold, 14-year-old Theodosia is the daughter of two Egyptologists excavating in the Valley of the Kings. When Theo and her younger brother, invention-mad Henry, stumble on a hidden tomb and a mysterious artefact, the Eye of Horus, Theo unlocks the power to see and perform true magic.

With her powers renewed and enlarged by the oasis's magic, Theo finds herself caught up in a battle across time to prevent the creation of a machine that threatens to poison the world's magic and destroy the globe itself. From her parents' Museum of Legends and Antiquities, Theo must battle with ancient forces and dark magic as she and Henry, along with their friends, street magician Will and Egyptian princess Safiya, try to survive teenage life, get through education and save the whole world.

Full of fun, thrills and heart, Theo's adventures will see her making new friends and discovering new powers, taking her from the tunnels of the London Underground to magic-twisted temples to the Ancient Egyptian underworld and the time of Rameses II himself.

#LikeMe

#LikeMe tells the story of Caroline – ‘Caro’ to her friends – a young girl who moves to the city with her mum Kristel and dad Peter, because Kristel needs ongoing medical care she can’t get in the countryside. The three move in with grandmother Titin, who is happy to have her family close, even though it does take them all a while to adjust.

Meanwhile, Caro not only has to get used to a new environment, but also to a new school. As ‘the new girl’, Caro is in the spotlight, not a position she relishes. After a somewhat hectic start, Caro meets the jovial Yemi, who happily volunteers to help her to settle in. Caro and Yemi soon become close friends.

But not everyone at school is equally friendly. Fashionista Camille soon makes it clear to Caro that the school has a pecking order and that she and her friends are at the top. Camille’s boyfriend, the athletic and good-looking Vince, does his best to welcome Caro, much to Camille’s displeasure. When Caro and Vince are selected for the leading roles in the school play and they seem to get along pretty well, Camille is furious...

By the end of season four, Caro will end her school career with mixed feelings, but with countless warm, hilarious and emotional memories. And with friends for life.

#LikeMe is a musical series that shows youngsters the lives of other youngsters in a unique and contemporary way: by using witty dialogue, familiar situations, pressing issues, strong characters and, of course, powerful music. As befits a good musical series, everything in #LikeMe is based on strong songs: songs that move, surprise, entertain and linger.

Hoodie

Hoodie is a superhero story about a perfectly normal boy, with an exceptional talent for parkour and a passion for justice. He has secretly been practicing parkour with Soufian, the best tracer in Brussels. He has been doing so in secret, as his mother, a passionate police officer, would never approve it. One day when a woman is robbed near his house, Pieter hesitates only briefly. He pulls his hoodie over his head and chases the robber using his parkour skills. He skilfully jumps over walls, traversing gardens and roofs... without being recognized. And so the legend of “Hoodie – fighter of crime” is created. When three neighbourhood kids, Flo, Basim and Kenza, discover Pieter’s talent and motivation, they join him to become an unexpected superhero crew: Team Hoodie. They are connected by one goal: to liberate the neighbourhood from injustice.

In season 2, Pieter and his three friends join together to free Vrijbeek from a hit-and-run vandal. Pieter locates his arch-rival Soufian and brings him back to Brussels, to train Hoodie back to superhero fitness. But Soufian’s arrival threatens to break up Pieter’s team.

In the 3rd season Pieter’s mother discovers his secret, but he decides to bring her into the team to free Vrijbeek, together with his friends, from a fake Hoodie who steals rather than protects.

Dancing Juli!

Juli (15) loves dancing! She is self-confident and doesn't mind if someone makes fun of her, just because she gains more weight than others. Paul from the upper classes, for example, regularly tries to provoke her. When his brother Micky (16) approaches her, Juli is sceptical. He is a well-known rapper at school and wants her to be a dancer for a video in which he wants to stage a rap for his secret love.

Really? But developing a choreography is one of her dreams, so Juli finds it very appealing and agrees.

The two start rehearsing in an old swimming pool and it soon becomes clear that they quite like each other. But can Juli really trust Micky? He reacts strangely to his brother's teasing. And when Micky quite obviously makes fun of her weight at school, she is incredibly disappointed and confronts him. But she didn't expect what comes next at all.

The pop-rap musical Dancing Juli! is about the first fragile love and wants to encourage young people to love and accept not only themselves but also others as they are.

BUCK

For the insecure and nondescript Elias, teenage life is a minefield. He takes his mind off it by playing his favourite video game, in which digital hero Commander Buck always saves the day. When Elias plays, he forgets all about his two irritating older sisters, his busy single mum, the bully in his new school, the world ...

Elias's room is his refuge, a place where nobody bothers him. Until one day ... Commander Buck himself is standing next to Elias's bed. And from then on, everything changes!

In this coming-of-age story, we follow Elias's transformation into a confident adolescent, who dares to be who he wants to be: someone who stands up to the school bully, someone who doesn't just let people push in front of him in the checkout queue, someone who isn't too timid to reveal his feelings to the girl of his dreams ...

This process is naturally one of trial and error – sometimes painful, sometimes funny, but always real.

Surviving Summer

After pushing her high-flying Australian mother to the brink, irrepressible Brooklyn teen Summer Torres is sent to live with family friends, the Gibsons, in the tiny town of Shorehaven on the Great Ocean Road. Supposedly she lived there until she was six but as far as she's concerned, this quirky Aussie family is a bunch of strangers. In a word: she's furious.

So is Ari Gibson, an introverted but ambitious young surfer coming back to competition after a life-threatening injury and months of rehab. He didn't ask for this impulsive and unpredictable American to steal his room and completely disrupt his plans. Those plans being: to make the Victorian Junior Surf Team and reconnect with his old buddies – Marlon, Bodhi and Poppy – who drifted away after the surfing accident that put Ari in hospital.

During Summer's eight-week exile, she'll be introduced to the fun and thrilling world of competitive surfing... and discover a talent and a drive she never knew she had... as well as an extended family to support her. At the same time, as Ari competes against his friends and awesomely talented kids up and down the coast in an effort to make the State Team, he'll also battle a secret anxiety that threatens to derail his dreams. Polar opposites in so many ways, Ari and Summer will drive each other crazy, share amazing experiences, and change each other's lives.

Alien Surfgirls / Lightning Point

When a spaceship lands near the tranquil Australian surf town of Lightning Point, the town will never be quiet again!

With pretty teen aliens Zoey and Kiki on a secret mission to Earth, Lightning Point is about to become the scene of intergalactic teen drama, with adventure, romance – and surfing! Coming from the waterless planet Lumina, the girls are fascinated by the sea. They soon befriend local surfer girl Amber and let her in on their secret. While the ambitious Zoey, a natural surfer, catches the eye of surf king Brandon, sweet-natured Kiki falls for his brother Luca, and is torn between keeping her identity secret and opening herself to 'human' emotions like love. But the girls soon realise that they aren't the first extraterrestrial visitors to Lightning Point – and that their trip to Earth may be part of a darker plot...

Heirs of the Night

In 1898, a prophecy warns the elders of the five remaining vampire clans in Europe that they need to unite their powers or else they will become extinct.

However, joining forces is easier said than done, as for the last decades the clans have been fighting each other in the clan wars. So now the Elders will have to set aside their hostile feelings and send their young Heirs to vampire school together, which is set up on the ancient sailing ship “The Elisabetha”.

The Heirs will have to team up and learn each other’s powers to become stronger than ever. They will have to trust each other and work together as they fight against Dracula, who has awoken after a long sleep and is out to destroy them. The Heirs face challenges they have never seen before as it is up to them to save the world from eternal darkness.

Truth or Dare

Truth or Dare is the story of the first great love, a friendship that means more than anything else, obsessions that must be kept secret and the quest for popularity.

The realistic drama series is about self-acceptance among pre-teens and their attempts to master challenges that life throws at them – whether it is about identity, love, friendship, family or school. The series about best friends Sanne and Tara aims to reduce the fear many young people have of being not good enough, and thereby hopes to strengthen the viewers’ self-esteem.

The first season is told mainly from the viewpoint of Sanne, who is a vulnerable and somewhat insecure girl who struggles with OCD. Sanne is terrified of being unsupported as the ‘weird one’ and is willing to do anything to keep her best friend Tara. When Sanne fails Tara one day, Tara breaks the friendship and Sanne is left alone. She feels guilt and shame, and the obsessive-compulsive disorder escalates so much that it becomes difficult to function normally in everyday life.

The second season is told mainly from the viewpoint of Tara, who is looking forward to starting secondary school. Her joy does however turn to horror when she discovers that none of her friends will be starting in the same class. In the first year of secondary school, it’s all about friends, love and how much you are willing to sacrifice to become – and stay – popular.
